Debbie Chadwick – Associate Case Manager Based in Christchurch

Debbie is an associate Case Manager based on the South coast. She has provided independent Case Management for children and adults with complex needs for over 11 years. Debbie is able to travel across the South coast and up to Bristol.

Debbie qualified as an Occupational Therapist in 1989 and has worked across different sectors in the UK and USA. She has a broad work experience in health, community and Social Services settings specialist neurological departments, brain injury rehabilitation units and complex trauma areas. Debbie has worked in statutory services, as an independent private practitioner, within large corporate organizations and in the voluntary sector. She has worked as a mentor, supervisor and trainer for healthcare delivery.

Intrinsically motivated with a belief in adopting a client centered approach to achieve functional goals and enhance long term self-management, Debbie is passionate about achieving the best quality of life outcomes for those she works with. She likes to 'think outside the box' to problem solve and create solutions for clients and their family as needs change.

She has recruited, coordinated and directed therapy and multidisciplinary teams both as a clinical leader and as a case manager. Debbie believes in the importance of clear communication, team support and shared work ethos to treat each client uniquely as an individual whilst maintaining a high standard of care.

Debbie has also worked in the field of vocational rehabilitation with clients wanting to return to work after a traumatic event. This has included assessment, work preparation, liaison with employers and voluntary organizations, planning, developing and monitoring programmes to promote a return to paid employment, volunteer work or participation in purposeful activity.

Debbie will be supported by the AJCM team including administrative support, compliance team, and Registered Manager. This ensures that our clients are supported by a team and can expect an excellent standard of service at all times.
